BUSCH FAMILY BOUGHT BONDS TO HELP HUNS

(By Associated Press.)

New York, July 11.—The Busch family in St. Louis, bought at least one million dollars' worth of German war bonds, which the U. S. Government believes were sold in this country for the German propaganda and for the purchase of the New York Evening Mail and other newspapers, according to a statement tonight by Alfred C. Becker, deputy state's attorney general. Becker emphasized the point that the German Government without one cent expense established a fund "to seduce a part of the American press with good American gold, exchanged for mere scraps of paper."

CONTINUOUS TRAINING

CAMPS TO BE OPENED FOR OFFICERS, ONE AT CAMP TAYLOR.

Washington, July 11.—It will be of interest to those who wish to secure training that will fit them to be officers, to learn that five Central officers' training camps, at which civilians and enlisted men will be trained for commissions in the officers' reserve corps, have been established by the war department, according to an announcement just made here. The camps for infantry training are located at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., Camp Gordon, Atlanta, and Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark. A camp for field artillery training has been established at Camp Taylor, Ky., and a camp for machine gun training at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.

The announcement further says: "These training schools will be run continuously, a new class being admitted monthly. The course of training will be four months at the infantry and machine gun schools, and about three months at the field artillery school. These schools are opened to qualified enlisted men of all branches of the service, except coast artillery corps, signal corps and labor units, and also a limited number of civilians.

"To be eligible for admission to a central training school candidates, either civilians or enlisted men, must be between the ages of twenty years and eight months and forty years, must be citizens of the United States and not have been born in any of the countries with which the United States is at war or allies of such countries. Enlisted men must have the moral, educational and physical qualifications required of an officer. Civilians must be graduates of a high school or have pursued an equivalent course of instruction; must be of good moral character, and must have the physical qualifications required for a commission in the officers' reserve corps.

"For the field artillery candidates must in addition to the above, possess a thorough understanding and working knowledge of arithmetic, algebra to include quadratic equations, and plane geometry. A knowledge of Trigonometry and the use of logarithms is desirable. Men having had a previous scientific and technical educational and training are most desirable, particularly those educated and trained as civil, mechanical, electrical, mining or architectural engineers.

"Civilians possessing the requisite qualifications as to education, character and physique, who desire to attend an officers' training school will apply for information and necessary blank forms to the army officer on duty as professor of military science and tactics at the educational institution nearest the residence of the applicant. After the applicant has been examined by a professor of military science and tactics, his application will be forwarded to the commanding officer of the Central Officers' Training School. Only such applications as are approved by the professors of military science and tactics will be forwarded to the commanding officer of the Central Officers' Training School. The commanding officer will notify from time to time such applicants as may be needed, directing them to report at a designated training school on a specified date.

"In the selection of men to attend these training schools preference will be given to qualified enlisted men so long as they are available."

SALE OF GAINES FARM.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found an advertisement of the Jas. R. Gaines farm near Gracely, in Trigg county. The farm in two tracts contains between 800 and 900 acres and the sale is for the administration of the estate. The farm is a very desirable property, close to the I. C. railroad and in a good neighborhood. It lies in the eastern edge of Trigg county, about 12 miles west of Hopkinsville.

PROHIBITION LEGISLATION

MAY BE POSTPONED UNTIL AFTER RECESS—WIRE CONTROL MEASURE MAY PASS CONGRESS.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 11.—Adoption tomorrow by the Senate of the House resolution empowering the President to acquire the Telegraph-Telephone systems and a summer vacation for Congress, with national wartime prohibition legislation postponed until after a recess was the program framed to-day by Congressional leaders.

The Senate debated on the wire control resolution, began after the agricultural emergency appropriation bill with the prohibition amendment had been laid aside temporarily. A vote and approval of the resolution without the amendment tomorrow or not later than Saturday is universally conceded. It is believed possible that prohibition managers will consent then to an adjournment until August 12.

SUGAR BOARD INCORPORATED

TO EQUALIZE PRICE OF SUGAR AND TAKE OVER FACTORY PRODUCTION IF NECESSARY.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 11.—To equalize the price of sugar to consumer in the face of prospects for an increase due to threatened shortage, President Wilson today created a Sugar Equalization Board on recommendation of Commissioner Hoover. The board will be incorporated for five million dollars and will have authority to acquire, even at a loss to the Government, the production of beet sugar factories that cannot, under the present price of beets, be sold to the public at a reasonable price. The board can also acquire other high cost sugar.

BELGIAN RULERS ATTEMPT TO RAID AMERICAN TRENCHES AND LEAVE DEAD

THREE SEAPLANES GUARD ALBERT AND ELIZABETH—BRITISH WELCOME THE "GUESTS FROM THE SKY."

London, July 11.—A royal air escort of three Belgian seaplanes guarded King Albert and Queen Elizabeth on their flight over the channel from Belgium to England Saturday morning on a trip which marked the first time in history that any ruler has ever made a flight from one country to another.

The royal couple traveled in separate planes, each operated by a Belgian army aviator.

On the British side of the channel the king landed first near a British war ship off Dover. The queen descended soon afterwards, her seaplane also landed near a war ship.

They started from the Belgian coast and made the trip to England in about fifty minutes. The purpose of their visit to England was to attend the silver anniversary of King George and Queen Mary on Saturday.

This is the first time since the war began that King Albert has visited London and virtually the first time since August, 1914, that he been outside his native land. The only time that King Albert has been outside of Belgium was during one or two informal trips into France.

Queen Elizabeth was most enthusiastic about the voyage, telling about it wherever she went and whenever any one asked the details of the trip, despite the fact that she had not ridden in airplanes before, she had never been over the sea.

The king, who has for a long time taken much interest in airplanes, has made many flights so that among friends in London he did not seem to think there was anything particularly novel about his flight.

ONWARD MARCHING.

Thirteen states have already ratified the national prohibition amendment, and did it in less than 6 months from the time the first state took action. Of the 1811 members of legislatures voting on the proposition 1488 voted for ratification while 323 voted against it. In other words, 82 per cent of the peoples representatives want national prohibition while 18 per cent. are opposed to it.

(By Associated Press.)

London, July 11.—The Bolshevik forces have taken the offensive against the Czech-Slovaks, in the Volga region, and the Government troops have won a great success, says a Russian official statement received here by wireless from Moscow. The Czech-Slovaks in Siberia are also reported to be retreating before a counter offensive of the Bolsheviks.

EIGHTEEN AVIATORS HOVERED OVER THE CASKET AND DROPPED ROSES.

New York, July 11.—Maj. John Purroy Mitchel was buried today in Woodlawn cemetery, in the presence of five thousand mourning citizens, including men prominent in world affairs. Eighteen American aviators, in battle formation, hovered over the casket of their dead comrade in arms, following the funeral cortege from St. Patrick's Cathedral, dropping thousands of roses on the streets, house-tops and grave as the body was lowered.

With American Forces on the Marne, July 11.—A large German patrol, which attempted a raid on the American trenches on the Marne front this morning was broken up and routed in confusion. The German dead aided the Americans in establishing the identification of the new German units.

In recognition of the valiant services of the American troops who stopped the German rush on Paris in the second battle of the Marne, the French authorities have officially changed the name of Bois De Belleau, which the Americans captured, to Bois De La Brigade De Marne, and ordered all maps changed accordingly.

Both the French and British made further gains last night, the French on the west side of the Marne salient and the British south of the Somme.

The repeated local attacks on the French front have by degrees straightened the German salient out and given the French much stronger positions.

The Italian offensive in Albania continues to gain headway. The advance so far has been about fifteen miles and the movement is still unchecked.

Strengthening their line between the Marne and Aisne, where it is believed the Germans will attempt to break through to Paris in the resumption drive, the French have begun to attacking appreciable results in a series of sharp local thrusts. The latest victory to show a methodical advance was the capture of the town of Corcy, east of Reims forest, which straightens out a new strong defensive line and gives the French a great opportunity for observation of activities behind the enemy lines.

DESERTER IS TAKEN TO CAMP

Sheriff Cliborne left for Camp Taylor last night with Pvt. Jim Hodges who left Camp Shelby some time ago and has been at his father's in the northeastern part of this county. He was arrested and brought to Hopkinsville yesterday morning. Officers had attempted to arrest Hodges once or twice before but had failed. Yesterday morning Mr. Lem Davis, deputy sheriff, reached Hodges' home about sun-up and found him in bed asleep. He had gotten in from Todd county about 3 o'clock yesterday morning and was sleeping soundly.

When Hodges learned that Mr. Davis was present for him, he made no resistance or effort to escape but took Mr. Davis' advice to return to camp and obey orders. Hodges came to town dressing in his uniform and looking real soldier like. A $50 reward was offered for his arrest. In all probability when Hodges reaches camp the charge of absent without leave will be made and his punishment made lighter.

COMPASS TESTING FOR SEA AND AIR SERVICES

The United States compass department, which is responsible for the supply, testing, etc., of all compasses for the navy and army, has recently, owing to the enormous expansion due to the war, been removed from its old location at Newport to a more suitable building in the country. The work at the observatory is almost entirely carried out by women. The photograph shows an instruction class in the gyro compass.

On Sunday, July 14, France will celebrate its independence day, the anniversary of the Bastille, fortified prison house of kings. Just as the Declaration of Independence was the greatest event of our revolution, so the destruction of this great tower in 1789 and the liberation of its occupants whose only crime was royal displeasure, was the greatest event for the French fight for freedom.
The key to that prison house now hangs in the hall at Mt. Vernon; the key to French freedom, presented by LaFayette in March, 1790, to Washington, as a symbol of the struggle of the two peoples. We still hold that key. The French people celebrated July 4th by a display of American flags. Let America display the French flag beside its own banner of freedom on July 14.

SOMEBODY ALWAYS ON JOB

"Y" Guy Can Be Depended Upon to Get Move On in Emergency—Men Made to Feel Perfectly Free and Unrestrained.

By CLARENCE BUDINGTON KEL-LAND.

Paris.—Thirty sailors off an American war vessel hired a motor truck and drove nine miles to get to the Y. M. C.
A. club in a famous French city. I asked them why.

"Because it's a regular hangout," one of them said, and another added, "Because you get white bread with butter on it, and eggs fried on both sides and coffee with piano accompaniment."

As soon as I broke into the place I found why men would ride nine miles on a truck to loaf there from eight until eleven.

It wasn't the sort of place folks in the United States imagine a Y. M. C.
A. to be. It was a sweltering hot night, and the broad front steps were lined from end to end with men in khaki and men in navy blue. They were gassing and smoking until the place looked as if the captain had ordered a smoke screen to help him through the submarine zone.

From the street you could hear a piano doing business and a lot more men in uniform howling. "Joan of Arc." If the mothers of these boys could have heard that racket their hearts would have dropped off a pound of weight and increased their beat by ten to the second. They sang as if they were glad to be alive.

Right on the job.
And then somebody busted up the game. A sailorman came in and made the announcement that the driver of their truck refused to take them back to quarters again, and it was a walk of nine miles on a hot night, or a stretch in the brig for them. Gloom descended. Then somebody turned around and bellowed, "Where's one of them 'Y' guys?"

A "Y" guy happened to be on the spot and in a second he was surrounded, not by a crowd of men who were angry or in a mood to demand something, but by fellows who were mighty courteous in an unpleasant situation.
That was something worth remarking,
and it made you sort of glad to be around.

They put the thing up to the "Y" guy and one fellow said sort of bashful-like, "We don't want to act like we was puttin' this up to you. 'Tain't your fault, but—"

It was apparent they had gotten the idea somehow that you could depend on a "Y" guy to get a move on him, and the "Y" guy allowed as much.

"Sure, it's up to us," he said, "that's why we're here."

Inside of twenty minutes he was back with a big truck with a red triangle on the side of it. He tucked the thirty sailorman into it and off they went to keep their appointment with their boss.

That, quite likely, is one reason why they rode nine miles to spend an evening in the Y. M. C. A., because they knew somebody was on the job.

Like You Owned the Place.

Another reason is that you don't have to knock, show a ticket, wiggle your first finger or roll over and play dead to get in. You just walk in like you were there to foreclose a first mortgage on the place.

When you walk through the front door you don't run into a lecture hall, though there is one upstairs, and the odor that comes to your nose isn't the odor of sanctity. It's the smell of fried eggs. The cafeteria is the first thing you meet, and if you are wise you get acquainted with it and stay acquainted while you are in this locality, for it is the best and cheapest place to eat in town. I know because I tried several.

The most impressive thing about it is the complete absence of an ostentatious welcome. You just help yourself and nobody says a word. You wander in and eat and wipe your mouth on your sleeve and hike upstairs to mess around on a piano or write a letter or play billiards, or to do as you doggone please. You are free.
To be able to make a huge number of men feel perfectly free and unrestrained and at home is quite some little accomplishment. I haven't had time to find out how it is done, but the next time I have a party at my house I'm going to try it on. It's the real thing in hospitality.

SURPRISE FOR CHURCH FOLKS

Meeting and Set to Digging

Denver, Colo.—Every member of City Park Baptist church was urgently requested to attend a special mid-week prayer meeting and to be on hand an hour earlier than usual. When the "worshippers" arrived the pastor produced an old case knife for each member, pointed to a church lawn badly cluttered by dandelions and told men and women alike to get busy. At the end of an hour of digging the lawn was clear of weeds.

Des Moines, Ia.—Two emerbeen established here by the

The plan is to keep the mothers in the homes until they have regained their strength. They will be taught to care for their babies and for themselves. After leaving, an effort will be made to see that they are located in homes.

PRICES SOAR IN LONDON

Saloon Keepers Make Up for Profiteering Brake on Whisky and Spirits.

London.—The whisky and spirit prices have limited the power of the saloon keeper to profiteer in these articles, with the result that the prices of wines have gone up with a run. A glass of port, which at one time was 8 cents, is now 24 cents. Mixed ver-mouth has risen to 24 cents a glass, or even to 36 cents in some West End establishments.

By the bottle prices have been increased in the case of Italian ver-mouth from 40 cents the litre to as much as $1.80, and the price of inferior French vermouth is $2. Other wines are double or treble pre-war prices.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL FOR BLIND SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

The chateau is located in the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, has been taken over by the Red Cross for blinded American fighters. The chateau is exceptionally well suited for hospital purposes, as the rooms are large, airy and well lighted.

Her Dire Threat.

Selma, aged three and a half, climbed to her place on her father's knee. He being worried, put her down. She stood looking at him seriously for a moment and then said: "Well, if you don't want no baby I'll just go to war."

Curious.

Just happened to think—funny, but true—that every man who ever made a pioneer of himself was considered looney! Can you locate a single exception? Look 'em over.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Must Find Trouble.

There are some people in this world who would not be just sure they were living if they couldn't scrape together a collection of small troubles, either their own or other people's, about which they might feel irritated.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

CUT TIME ON SHIPS

New Record for Rapid Construction Is Set.

Baltimore Shipbuilding Company Reduces the Present Average by Half.

Washington.—In its effort to set a new record for rapid ship construction, the Baltimore Dry Dock and Shipbuilding company has cut in half the present average time for construction of contract steel ships. This average for the 12 contract steel ships built to date is 130.5-6 days.

In previous days a year was regarded as fast time for building a steel vessel of or above 6,000 tons.

The ten fastest built vessels for the shipping board have averaged 99.9-10 days between keel laying and delivery. The 5,500-ton collier Tuckahoe, record holder in this or any other year, was built in 37 days. On the list of the ten fastest built ships the slowest time was 119 days. Here is the list:

Tuckahoe, 5,500 tons, New York Shipbuilding company, 37 days.

West Liang, 8,500 tons, Skinner & Eddy corporation, Seattle, 78 days.

West Alack, 8,500 tons, Skinner & Eddy corporation, Seattle, 92 days.

Ostineke, 8,571 tons, Skinner & Eddy corporation, Seattle, 108 days.

West Durfee, 8,500 tons, Skinner & Eddy corporation, Seattle, 111 days.

Canoga, 8,548 tons, Skinner & Eddy corporation, Seattle, 112 days.

Westgrove, 8,500 tons, Columbia River S. B. Co., Seattle, 112 days.

Western Queen, 8,500 tons, Skinner & Eddy corporation, Seattle, 113 days.

Lake Huron, 3,100 tons, American S. B. Co., Chicago, 117 days.

Lake Forest, 3,100 tons, American S. B. Co., Chicago, 119 days.

On the Pacific coast the five vessels built in the fastest time have averaged 100.1-5 days between keel laying and delivery; on the Great Lakes, 124.2-5 days; on the Atlantic coast, 200.1-5 days.

ICED DRINKS UNDER BAN

State Food Administration of Arkansas Rules Out Cooling Beverages.

Little Rock, Ark.—The girls may continue to wear $30 gowns, $25 boots and hose that cost more than a pair of shoes did a generation ago, but in this town they will not flirt among the round tables in the soda joints, sipping soft drinks at the expense of soldier boys or loving swains. The state food administration has knocked these good times on the head. The girls must learn that the country is at war. No more, according to the order of the food administration, shall soft drink stands serve iced tea, sherbet and water ices. An order has also been issued denying manufacturers of soft drinks who have used their 1918 sugar allotment more sugar for the remainder of the year.

Eagle Attacks Woman.

Franklin, W. Va.—A bald eagle that has made frequent excursions into this part of the country made a vicious attack on Mrs. Anna Simmons while she was walking to her home near this city. Three deep wounds were made in her face where the eagle's talons had gouged into the flesh. Will Halterman, who ran to her assistance, was also attacked and forced to seek shelter.

NEW BUST OF SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK

WOULD GUARD STATUES

Paris Protests Against Neglect of Art Treasures.

Allowed to Stand Exposed to Air Raids—Promise of Aid Falls.

Paris.—Protest has arisen in many quarters here against the deliberate neglect of many of the priceless statues and works of art in Paris, which have been permitted to stand unprotected against possible damage from enemy air raids and bombardments. The special commission charged with the duty of providing protection for public monuments of art has been severely criticized.

Last year when the danger of air raids seemed comparatively remote a dozen or more monuments and statues were ordered to be protected with sand-bags. Some time afterward "loaded" sacks were placed at a distance from the monuments or statues waiting to be put in place. There they were allowed to remain, nothing further being done. The bags lay about the statues for weeks.

In the meantime there were several air raids. Fortunately no monument or statue was hit. On the initiative of a group of citizens work on the protection of some of the masterpieces was begun, and many historic pieces like the Vendôme Column, the Obelisk, the Strasbourg Monument and the art works in the Luxembourg gardens were given some adequate protection.

Street urchins anxious to play "in the trenches" climbed up among the bags, causing a loose one to slip, with the result that thousands of bags fell in an avalanche about many of the statues. It was thereupon found that the bags were filled with stones or clinkers.

Art lovers protested and called the attention of the commission to the fact that stones and clinkers afforded no protection against German bombs. The Paris municipal council is now taking measures to remedy the present condition and promises that every valuable piece of statuary and historical art will be reasonably protected.

TAKE SHRAPNEL FROM HEART

Remarkable Operation Performed on British Soldier Proves Successful.

London.—A remarkable operation has been performed on a soldier at Leeds Infirmary. A piece of shrapnel weighing 61 grains was extracted from the anterior wall of the heart.

The patient is Private John Brit land, who was wounded at Arras on April 11 last year. After receiving treatment in several hospitals he was taken to Leeds Infirmary, where a radiograph established the fact that he had a piece of metal in the wall of the heart itself. He is making steady progress to recovery.

Wanted: A Wife to Leave Behind Him

By KITTY PARSONS

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Jean Coleman looked up as Thomas Waring came into the office. He was half an hour late and there was something unusual in his manner.

"Miss Coleman," he began abruptly. "I'm going to get married. I'm going to be called in the next draft and I want something to leave behind me—someone, I should say."

The stenographer looked up quickly and smiled slightly.

"Nice for the girl," she remarked noncommittally.

"I realize that, but she doesn't have to do it unless she wants to. I intend to make it perfectly clear. And that's why I came to you for advice about the matter—you are so sensible. I knew you could help me. I'm going to advertise in a matrimonial journal and I'd like you to see the applicant. I think the best before I accept her—will you?"

It was almost too much, but Jean was equal to the occasion. Her sense of humor asserted itself and she laughed merrily.

"I'll do all I can," she assured him. "Report to me in a week and tell me your progress. Good luck to you. I have to get back to work now so you'd better run along."

Tom Waring went to his own desk and pondered on the peculiarities of women. He knew Jean would help him but he did think she might have been a little more interested and not so amused.

Her eyes—wonderful eyes she had, too—had twinkled all the time he talked, and he was really very serious. He was also very lonely and his story about wanting someone to leave behind him had been put rather cold-bloodedly because he did not find it easy to say exactly what he meant to Jean. She probably thought him foolish enough already. So he wrote a satisfactory advertisement of his intentions, put it in the paper, and waited for developments with some consternation.

During the week that followed he had sixty-five applications. Widows, orphans and maidens read the welcome notice, and he was pursued by thin women, fat women, ugly women and foolish women; but the charming, sweet and perfect young creature for whom he longed did not appear. The majority of them were middle-aged, and few at all good looking.

Discouraged and tired out, at the end of three days he dropped into a chair beside Jean Coleman's desk, just after five o'clock. There was no one else in the office.

"Well, what luck?" she asked him cheerfully, noting his dejected air.

"I'm disgusted—utterly disgusted—I guess I'll never be married. I didn't know there were so many women in this city who wanted husbands. There isn't a single one I could ever learn to love, even if my life depended on it."

"People don't generally have to learn to love," ventured Jean.

"How do you know so much about it, Miss Coleman?"

Jean blushed and began to straighten up her desk.

"I learn a lot by observation, Sir Benedict, and just now I must leave you and go to dinner. Your week isn't up and I told you to come to me at the end of a week and we'd see about the bride. Three days is not half long enough, and now you've started it, you've got to see this matrimonial venture through, just to show it's not a joke."

Waring agreed grudgingly, and together they left the office. Just outside he had a sudden inspiration.

"Won't you go to dinner with me?" he asked her. "We could go somewhere where they dance if you like to—it would be great fun if you would!"

For a second Jean seemed to hesitate, and then replied somewhat briskly:

"I'm sorry, but I have an engagement. You go and see if you've had any more answers and come to me again in four days. Good-night."

Waring felt his spirits sink below zero. "She talked like a doctor applying some awful medicine," he said to the terror of his substantial sister. "I didn't see how you could help liking her, but I never dared hope you would say as much as that." And of course it was not Tom's sister's way to say such nice things without a reason.

"She is a lovely girl, Tom, and not the kind of a girl to trifle with." She looked intently at him so as to strike contrition to his heart, but apparently there was no such result.

There were several other meetings between the sister and the fiancé, and on each one the sister was more favorably impressed than on the last. Tom was working harder in his office than he had ever worked before. He told his sister that was the result of being engaged to Madge. She was inspiration enough to make any man do his best, and of this the sister entirely approved. No silly little girl whose head was in her heels could have this effect on a man, that was certain.

The substantial sister remained in the city two weeks and no inkling did she get of the cabaret dancer friend of her brother's whom he had once introduced as his fiancée. Well, perhaps he had thought better of his folly. She would not force a confidence out of him, but she would not go back home till she had "cleared" the matter with Madge Remson. With this end in view she urged Tom to make a formal announcement of the engagement.

"We had hardly wanted to do that," Tom protested. "A few people know of it, but because Madge is working she doesn't want to wear an engagement ring or have it announced till just before we are married."

"There is no reason why you can't be married in a very little while," said the sister. "In the meantime the very fact that she is working is reason enough why she should have the engagement announced. It is something that is due to every girl who has given her promise to marry. Tom, I really insist that it be announced. I won't go home until you do."

Perhaps this last stipulation had something to do with it, for the next day Tom told his sister that Madge had consented to announce their engagement. In fact, they had gone so far as to send small notes to the various papers making the announcement, and Madge had written to all her close friends telling them of it.

The sister was satisfied and had actually made reservations for her return trip, when she chanced to buy one of the papers to which the announcement had been sent and there espied something that made her immediately countermand her order for the reservations and unpack her bags preparatory to a prolonged stay.

She confronted her brother that evening with a substantial scowl upon her face and a manner of determination.

"Now I know," she said. "You have been trifling with that lovely girl. The girl you are really going to marry is that cabaret dancer that Pete Brevier told me about, and that," said the sister, with a fine crescendo, "that is why I came all the way from home to see about things. Tom, you are going to marry Madge Remson if I have to make you."

"What made you think that I wasn't?" said Tom, with a placidity that was irritating to the enraged sister.

"This," she said grandly, producing a newspaper folded carefully to show a short engagement announcement. "Young lawyer to wed dancer," she read. "Thomas R. Rawdon, one of the promising young lawyers of the firm of Babcock & Parsons, and the clever young dancer, Marcia Daw, have announced their engagement. Marcia Daw is now engaged in classic dancing in the cabaret of the Terrace garden of the Bancroft hotel and is regarded as one of the cleverest young dancers in the city. There," cried his sister, "isn't that enough?"

"Won't you read all of the announcement?" asked the brother.

"I've read enough," said the sister with finality. "That is as far as I cared to read," but as she spoke her eyes did run down farther on the column. "In private life," were the words she read there, "Marcia Daw is Miss Madge Remson, a daughter of the late Bradley Remson of this city."

The sister sat speechless. "Why didn't you tell me?" were the words she finally uttered.

"Because I knew your probable prejudice against a girl that made her living dancing. I wanted you to make up your mind first that I should marry Madge, the stenographer, and you know you recently registered the determination that I should do that, in rather strong terms."

"But why didn't you tell me she was a dancer when you first wrote me?"

"Because I didn't know she was," said Tom. "She worked very quietly away at the office and it was not till I knew her well that she told me. She is a girl of enormous strength and perseverance. It is her example that has set me to working so hard. She plugs along at the office every day from nine till five and then dances from nine till twelve—and she's fresher every morning when she starts in at work than the other girls that have no other work to do."

"Then you are going to marry Madge?" insisted the sister, who still wanted to feel that her trip to the city had been very necessary and that somehow she had had her finger in the pie of Tom's happiness.

"It seems as if I'd have to," said Tom generously, "since you have set your heart on it."

TEDDY'S SON WINGS A HUN.

Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, the youngest son of ex-President Roosevelt, brought down his first German airplane Wednesday afternoon in a flight north of Chateau Thierry.

Lieut. Roosevelt with three other pilots was flying at a height of 5,000 yards, eight miles inside the German lines when the machines became separated. Soon after Roosevelt saw three planes which he thought were his companions and started to join them. He was close approaching the machines from the rear when he saw his mistake for the planes were German. Roosevelt immediately opened fire and after 50 shots tracers penetrated the fuselage of the nearest German machine and it went into a spinning nose dive, falling through the clouds 2,000 yards below.

The lieutenant is certain it must have crashed for no pilot voluntarily goes into a 2,000 yard spinning nose dive. The two remaining German air planes attacked Roosevelt, but he managed to make good his escape and return to the field, himself and his machine unscratched.

American pursuit planes flying in squadron formation penetrated German occupied territory north of Chateau Thierry for a distance of 50 miles Wednesday and chased several German machines which they encountered.

The Americans secured considerable information and observed the preparations being made by the enemy. The flew over many newly constructed flying fields, including one believed to be occupied by the famous Richtofen flying field.

The planes were at a height of 5,000 yards in the course of the great race of the flight.

All Americans returned safely.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS

TO BE PAID TO PEOPLE OF CHRISTIAN COUNTY ON JANUARY FIRST, 1923.

The following is the MESSAGE OF THE MEMBERS OF THE HOPKINSVILLE TOBACCO BOARD OF TRADE to the people of Christian county adopted unanimously at their meeting yesterday:

As the fathers or mothers looking to the future of their children, teaches them to economize and to start a Savings Bank Account, in order that the child may have a "Nest Egg" when he becomes twenty-one years of age, so the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT is looking ahead for her people, and urging them to economize, and BUY WAR SAVING STAMPS, which is in fact depositing your money in a U. S. BANK at 4 per cent INTEREST COMPOUNDED QUARTERLY, figuring to you, your interest in advance, and FOR EACH $4.18 YOU DEPOSIT NOW, YOU GET A STAMP WORTH $6.00, PAYABLE JAN. 1st, 1923.

The Government is looking ahead for its people, knowing full well that as soon as the War closes, we may expect a period of depression, a time when it will be hard to obtain money, even should you have the best of collateral; a time when there will be two or three men for each job; a time when there will be two or three men for each job; a time similar to the panic of 1893, or like you all remember, 1907, what a God send it would have been IF THERE COULD HAVE BEEN SENT TO CHRISTIAN COUNTY IN 1893, A FEW HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS!

If History repeats itself, we may expect similar conditions by 1923. Then why not exercise business sense and prepare for the depressed days that we know are coming, so that when that day arrives, we can joyfully look to the DATE OF JANUARY 1, 1923, KNOWING THAT ON THAT DATE, THAT $1,000,000.00 (ONE MILLION DOLLARS) WILL BE PUT INTO CHRISTIAN COUNTY with normal prices that would have a purchasing power of more than $2,000,000.00 would buy now.

LET'S DO IT! It will be easy, as that would average only $25.00 per capita, in Christian county which has a 40,000 population.

Just look at the Bank Deposits of Christian county, right now—more than $3,500,000! Never in its history did the Combined Bank Deposit show so large, until this War began. This is more than double, or $2,000,000.00 of War Prices, which is BLOOD MONEY. EVERY DOLLAR OF EXCESS ABOVE NORMAL TIMES REPRESENTS SOME SOLDIER BOYS' BLOOD.

Then why not be prudent and put at least one-half this surplus or $836,000.00, on deposit with the U. S. Bank, and take WAR SAVING STAMPS for $1,000,000, payable January 1, 1923? As an economic proposition, WE MUST DO IT! As a business proposition, WE CAN AND WILL DO IT! All pledge ourselves to work to this end.

HOPKINSVILLE TOBACCO BOARD OF TRADE. L. B. CORNETT, President.

The Purpose of an Advertisement is to serve your needs. It will help sell your goods—talk to the people you want to reach. An advertisement in this paper is a reference guide to those whose wants are worth supplying.

RED CROSS NOTES.

The people of School No. 5 in the county will meet at the school building next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will organize a branch Red Cross Auxiliary. This is truly a patriotic move and should be followed by an organization in every school district in the county.

Mrs. Blakemore Resigns.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Christian county chapter of the Red Cross, which was held yesterday morning, Mrs. L. McF. Blakemore tendered her resignation as vice chairman of the organization and it was accepted.

Mrs. Blakemore, one of the most beloved and patriotic ladies in the city, has been the active head of the Red Cross in this county since it was organized a year ago, and she has been tireless and faithful in the cause. A resume of the year's work is given by her in this issue of the Kentuckian which shows how important this has been and the extensive scope it has covered.

The board then proceeded to elect officers to serve for the balance of the fiscal year, Dr. Gant Gaither having recently resigned as chairman also. Norman Mellon, treasurer of the organization, was elected as chairman and Mrs. Ira L. Smith as vice chairman. The offices of secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to have Miss Bush's office at the present Red Cross rooms and she will receive all moneys and goods and see to issuing supplies to workers.

McKenzie Todd, of Louisville, executive secretary for Kentucky, was present at the meeting.

LINN F. HANSEN, PATRIOT

There is none who will ever be able to doubt the patriotism of Linn F. Hansen, a young farmer of Wayne, Neb. Hansen owned quite an extensive farm but when he heard the call of duty he responded. First of all, he sold his property, then contributed $3,800 to the Red Cross. He followed with a $1,000 contribution towards building a church and then bought another thousand dollars' worth of Liberty bonds. Not content with all this, Hansen enlisted in the army and then bought $4,500 more of Liberty bonds. He is stationed at Pensacola, Fla., with Company G of the Forty-third Infantry. President Wilson has written Hansen a letter expressing his admiration for the action taken by the young farmer.

Remark That Meant War.

"Some people ain't badly proud when they've got a cheap photograph to show off," observed Mrs. Prunk of No. 35 to her neighbor at No. 33. "She had the four children all took together last week," and a thumb was jerked in the direction of No. 31.

"Only sayin' to my husband 'mornin'," replied 33. "George," I says, 'I'm about fed up with her swank.' Never did see such a woman to put on airs. Fancy! A photograph in war time! I shall tell her off if she shows it to me, you see if I don't."

Two minutes later the photograph in question was being passed over the opposite fence.

"Think it's like 'em?" asked the proud owner.

"I don't know 'em, do I?"

"O' course you do. They're my four."

"Never! Well, there, d-d, I suppose you washed 'em after they was made. Makes such a difference, don't it?"
